

May 15, 2018

To Whom It May Concern,

Kelli Frazier has completed the Queen Creek Unified School District's Leadership Academy. The academy focuses on job-embedded learning that empowers aspiring administrators to grow, develop and refine their leadership skills. The experience involved a variety of learning activities including seminars, book studies, peer collaboration, scenario-based problem solving, and networking.

The program design is to train and support future instructional leaders who will apply new learning to increase student achievement and help close the achievement gap. Content is research-based/best practices, and all participants were asked to implement their skills within their professional sphere of influence.

The training and experience Kelli received by attending the Queen Creek Leadership Academy will prove to be an invaluable asset that sets her apart as a professional leader. By completing the program, Kelli demonstrates an enthusiasm for professional growth, which makes her an excellent candidate for a variety of leadership roles in the field of education.

Sincerely,

Dr. Cort Monroe

Dr. Cort Monroe
Asst. Superintendent of Support
Services

Erika Copeland

Erika Copeland
Executive Director of K-12
Educational Services